

If buying commercial, only do if you have good knowledge. Most people lose money. Often fake rental promises & interest payment.

High maintenance charges.

People bleed after buying wrong commercials.

Buy already leased property.

Caution : First time buyer should avoid commercial bets

No End User issue

Fatal trap

Eg: Zones, CLU, road width, workers nearby, city centre distance, transport
Electricity, water supply.

If buying Flat or builder project, check their sales report on respective state RERA website. Eg: HRERA for Haryana

Check how many units sold each quarter - avoid FOMO trap.

Check FAR permissible & maps

Ask for draft BBA (builder buyer agreement) before giving 10% token *

Note : avoid under construction*. (Professionals enter early if doing)

Buy ready to move (safer & you can do due diligence)

Direction, best floors, worst floors, lift quality & speed, construction type, builder reputation, vastu.

If buying agricultural land/plot, make sure to do boundary wall before registry & final payment.

Give token money (few lakhs)

Check papers

History & chain of papers over decades

Make boundary wall

Wait for 2-3 days

Then do payment

Solution to avoid fatal mistakes

1. Make bank your partner, let them do due diligence.
 2. Take some loan even if it's not required.
 3. Avoid dealing in cash but if dealing in cash, make sure you have a strong broker with muscle power & reputation (usually in large deals)
 4. Check background of seller especially when payment coming in 3-6 months.
 5. Avoid cash transactions but if dealing in cash, make sure initial payments are in cheque so that you can fight legally in case of fraud.
- Imp 6. Don't make oversized investment which are heavily leveraged. Be very careful & do the maths before hand.
Eg: khiladi's take high leveraged bets but remember that for them it's their 24x7 job & are playing high risk, high reward game.

Real estate has historically given great success stories. Hence slogans

Land is expensive today & cheaper tomorrow.

Land will always appreciate due to inflation & demand.

Good land/real estate is scarce.

The Real hard asset.

People get married based on Real estate assets

What all can go wrong ?

1. Principle money lost/stuck

Eg: Under construction property, Unauthorised plots demolish*

More than 50% of Delhi is unauthorised

2. Legal litigation, not clear title (multiple owners)

Eg: inherited property, brother sells w/o sibling permission

Fake gift deed

GPA documents

3. You may default on loan, businesses & private jobs are uncertain.

Regrets come when we live like we won't die

& we spend as if nothing can go wrong with Cashflow

4. Master plan issues : upcoming road, land use, CLU eligibility, registry haults

5. Unseen issues : water logging in rainfall, safety in night, maintenance charges, poor construction quality, parking issues.

Should we buy a House in our 20's & early 30's

Personal finance is more about "Personal" and less about finance.

Then why are we seeking outside validation before purchasing a house?

Because it's natural : large ticket size brings fear of making mistake.

Real estate is so expensive, will I be able to buy it ?

Do we have the budget today ?

Do we have at least 50%-100% cash in hand ?

Don't panic about things you cannot control, FOMO is a good investors enemy.
Patience is our friend.

We will get ample opportunities in our lifetime.

eg: Tier 2 cities, new master plans, new cities around mega cities

Market was cheap in 2018-2021. When will be they cheap again ? We don't know!

In which city ?

Top 8 cities : NCR, Mumbai, Bangalore, Hyderabad, Pune, Chennai

Tier 2 cities : Top 30 cities

Tier 3 towns

I don't know
